Table 1

When to defer a PSA blood test

- If a man has not been counselled about the PSA test
- In the presence of an active urinary tract infection
- If ejaculation has taken place in the past 48 hours
- If vigorous exercise has taken place in the past 48 hours
- If a prostate biopsy has been performed in the previous six weeks