Table 1

Serological testing should be offered to adults and children with any of these signs and symptoms[11]

| Signs and symptoms | Conditions |
|---|---|
| ● Chronic or intermittent diarrhoea● Failure to thrive or faltering growth (in children)● Persistent or unexplained GI symptoms including nausea and vomiting● Prolonged fatigue (tired all the time)● Recurrent abdominal pain, cramping or distension● Sudden or unexpected weight loss● Unexplained weight loss● Unexplained iron deficiency anaemia, or other unspecified anaemia | ● Autoimmune thyroid disease● Irritable bowel syndrome● Type 1 diabetes● First-degree relatives (parents, siblings or children) with coeliac disease |